

THE SIBILING BOTTLES

Once upon a time a bottle of water, called Elen had a brother called Marco who was lost in the forest when they were walking

When she realized that his brother was lost, she felt very sad :(

While she was walking a car ran over her.

A few minutes later, a woman that was walking, saw her and picked up

Later the woman saw a yellow container and she threw the bottle there

Finally when she spent some minutes near the container another woman threw his brother to the same container and they met again
